City of South Bay swears in commissioners

Tammy Jackson
Staff Reporter

Two South Bay Commissioners were sworn into another term in office Tuesday night during the city commission meeting. Taking the oath to uphold the duties of their position, were Clarence Anthony and Willie Marshall. The commissioners were able to retain their seats with no opposition.

Mr. Anthony was first elected to the commission in March 1984. He was selected as the Mayor of South Bay in April 1986. A veteran to the political arena, Mr. Anthony, 32, is a lifetime resident of South Bay. He owned and operated his own consulting firm. Mr. Anthony said there is so much that can be done in the town of South Bay.

Mr. Marshall was first elected to the commission in March 1982. Also a veteran to politics, Mr. Marshall, 43, is employed as a foreman at Tallman Sugar Corporation. Since being elected to the commission 12 years ago, Mr. Mr. Marshall served for several years as vice mayor of the city. A resident of South Bay, Mr. Marshall is an active member in his church. He said he works for the citizens of South Bay and he wants to look out for their best interest.

Environmental group gets enough signatures for review of penny-a-pound tax on sugar

Save Our Everglades, a citizens initiative that imposes a penny-a-pound fee on sugar to pay for cleaning up and restoring the Everglades, has gathered enough petition signatures to be reviewed by the Florida Supreme Court.

Chairman George Barley, an Orlando businessman, announced last Wednesday that SOE has gathered more than 45,000 verified petition signatures, crossing the 10 percent threshold for review by the Supreme Court. It takes 429,000 verified signatures to put a proposed constitutional amendment on the Nov. 8 ballot.

Mr. Barley said more than 275,000 people have already signed SOE petitions. The Supreme Court will review the proposal to see if it is limited to a single subject and explains properly to voters in the ballot summary what it does.

"Save Our Everglades is valid, it will be on the ballot and it will pass," Mr. Barley said. "Floridians want to save the Everglades, and they want to restore Florida Bay. They know they can't depend on Big Sugar and its pals in government to do the job. They know that writing our proposal into their state constitution is the only way to Save Our Everglades."

Baseball teams are going strong at local parks

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

Baseball season kicked off in the Glades with a barbecue for the players and their families on Saturday, March 5, at Mace Park.

According to Glades Youth Baseball Association President Israel Baer, over 275 kids are participating in the sport this year.

Twenty teams, made up of Little League, Farm League, T-Bell and a Lassie League will be playing almost every evening at either Mace or Airport Park for nine weeks.

"It's the parents and the coaches who deserve the credit for donating their time," said Mr. Baer. "Some don't even have children in the programs but they donate their time," he added.

Not only do children learn the fundamentals of baseball, Mr. Baer said, but they learn sportsmanship and gives them a way to spend their time in a good environment, instead of being on the streets.

Vice President Jeff Hawkins said most of the games begin at 6 p.m. and end around 8 p.m. He urges residents to come out and support the teams.

Crash on Main Street...Several Belle Glade people were taken to Glades General Hospital last Saturday with minor injuries after Randall Jackson, driving a 1984 Thunderbird, pulled out in front of David and Pam Campbell's Ford Explorer. Police say the Campbells were headed south on Main Street when Jackson pulled out from the east side of Avenue B, into the path of the Explorer. The impact spun Jackson's car around and he then hit a parked 1986 Nissan truck driven by Errol Smith, who was waiting to proceed from the east side of Avenue B. The Campbells, a passenger in Jackson's car, Gregory Stubbs, and Smith, were treated and released at Glades General. Shown is the photo is Belle Glade Police Sgt. Albert Dowdell.

Contractors complain to city commission about building inspector

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

Howard "Doc" Hill, a prolific builder in the City of Belle Glade, has vowed he will not build another rental apartment or single family home in the city while the current building inspector is on the job.

Mr. Hill told Belle Glade Commissioners Monday night he could not work with Building Inspector Gene Simmons.

He said Mr. Simmons is "abrupt, tactless and insulting" in his dealings with citizens.

Mr. Hill has developed 13 sub-divisions in the city over the span of 20 years and in the last 12 to 14 months built seven tri-plexes and eight single family homes.

He said he had planned to build more rental apartments on property he owns next to his gas station, "Doc's Gas," on State Road 715.

"In 1994, I had on the drawing board to build five houses and 10 tri-plexes, but because Mr. Simmons has made it so difficult for me to do business in the City of Belle Glade, I have decided as long as he is in the building department, I will do no more construction in this city," he said.

"It has been my experience since the arrival of Mr. Simmons that the building department makes every attempt possible to discourage new construction," said Mr. Hill, reading from a prepared statement. "In the past 15 years I have always been able to work with the other building inspectors and we have solved together any problems that have arisen: I have come to the conclusion that this is impossible with Mr. Simmons."

Businessmen Larry Simmons (no relation to Gene Simmons) and Johnnie Hood also spoke before the commission. Larry Simmons said he also will not build any more in the city "until this mess is straightened out."

Mr. Simmons said he does not blame Gene Simmons for the problems related to stringent building codes, but that the building inspector was caught in the middle. Mr. Hood said he had also had problems with the building department when he built in the city.

Gene Simmons, who has been the building inspector for three and a half years, said in an interview the next day that he has no plans to step down from his job.

"Before I came here, the codes existed, the mandates existed, but they weren't enforced. All I have done is try to execute the correct procedures," he said.

City Manager Lomax Harrelle said Mr. Simmons is doing "an outstanding job for the city."

"He is conscientious and knowledgeable. We are fortunate to have someone of his caliber," said Mr. Harrelle.

"We have rules and regulations and obligations to the citizens of Belle Glade for their safety and we can't be changing the rules just to suit someone," Mr. Harrelle added.

The commission instructed Mayor Steve Weeks to meet with the building inspector and Mr. Harrelle to discuss the complaints made by the contractors.

Let the games begin...T-ball participants line up on the field at Mace Park before the games began last week. Over 275 children are participating in T-ball, Farm League, Little League or Lassie League in the Glades this season. Photo courtesy of Ed Rongione

News from the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center and Palm Beach Community College

By Maria Wise Miller
This "Joint is Jumping"...as the saying goes. The Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center has activities for the whole family and we are kicking off something new this week, the first Theatre and Etiquette Camp.

Especially designed for boys and girls in fourth through eighth grades, this camp will provide an opportunity for youngsters to build self confidence, learn theatre techniques, and develop proper manners.

The Theatre and Etiquette camp will be held at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center from April 4 through April 8, during Glades area schools Spring Break.

Students will learn how to develop a story, write a play and mount a performance including building scenery, costumes and handling sound and lighting. During lunch, the boys and girls will learn about proper etiquette.

Enrollment in the camp is limited to 25 students in order to provide the best learning environment for each child.

Handling the artistic portion of the camp will be Mrs. Krista Flores who has over 15 years experience working with children's theatre and has worked with several outstanding organizations such as the Little Palm Children Theatre.

The etiquette portion will include learning about table manners as well as introductions, thank you's, etc. Maria Wise Miller, whose past experience includes serving as protocol officer in Washington, D.C., will show the children the secrets of being proper.

The registration fee for the five-day camp is $50 per child. Again, enrollment will be limited so sign up early. To register your child, contact the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center at 992-6160. Registration begins when the Palm Beach Community College opens after Spring Break on March 14.

Dr. Karroum gets board certification

Dr. Nabil Karroum

The American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology, Inc. has announced that Nabil Karroum, M.D. has passed the examinations necessary to achieve board certification.

Dr. Karroum is the medical director at Western Palm Beach County Mental Health Clinic, Inc. in Belle Glade. He performed his residency training at the University of Florida in the area of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and at the Bergen Pines Hospital in New Jersey in general psychiatry. As medical director for the clinic, Dr. Karroum oversees the Crisis Stabilization Unit, the Nat Kahn Center for Child and Family Services and is medical staff director.

Joseph Amato, executive director for the clinic stated that Dr. Karroum's achievement of board certification is consistent with the clinic's ongoing efforts to improve the professional qualifications of its staff.

"We have also adopted a policy that encourages our therapists to seek and obtain state licensure," Mr. Amato said. "I hope the Glades community will join the staff in congratulating Dr. Karroum on his accomplishment," Mr. Amato said.

Glades General Hospital and American Diabetes Association to offer screening

Glades residents need to make note of two special days this month on their calendars: March 22 and 23, mark the fourth year that Glades General Hospital has celebrated with the American Diabetic Association to sponsor "American Diabetes Alert."

This is designed to screen the public for abnormal blood sugar levels which may indicate Diabetes. In addition, the hospital will also offer blood pressure checks and cholesterol screenings.

Last year, 19 people were found to have higher than normal blood sugars, 37 with higher than normal blood pressures and 71 people with elevated cholesterol.

Assessment of desirable body weight and nutritional counseling will be performed by the nutritional team.

Information on weight control, low fat diets, and lowering cholesterol will be available. Also, the details of the hospital's soon to be formed "Group Weight Loss Competition" program will be available.

The screening will be held in the front lobby of Glades General Hospital in Belle Glade. When participants arrive, they will be asked to register and will be given a number (first come first serve).

Last year 203 people participated, so this year the hospital has increased the number of test stations from two to six to shorten the waiting time for participants. The blood tests can be performed with just a finger stick, and the results will be available within three minutes.

It is best if the blood tests are done when you have not eaten or taken any liquids since midnight of the night prior to the test.

To accommodate those people who have to be at work early, screening will begin at 6 a.m. and continue until 11 a.m. both days.

There is no charge for this community health screening activity, so come out to Glades General Hospital and participate.

Mike Johnson to head local Boys and Girls Club Outreach Program

Mike Johnson, a retired Belle Glade police officer, has been appointed as Boys & Girls Club outreach director for Belle Glade.

Mr. Johnson served 15 years on the Belle Glade police force, working in every phase of the department. He became interested in youth while serving as the department's DARE officer, educating youngsters about drug abuse and its link to crime.

"As a police officer, I realize that traditional law enforcement isn't solving the problem of troubled kids," Mr. Johnson said. "Through the Boys & Girls Club, I can teach youngsters that adults aren't all bad guys and that they do care about kids."

Mr. Johnson's duties will include setting up Boys & Girls Club programs Smart Moves, a drug/alcohol abuse and teen pregnancy prevention program.

gram; Gangbusters, a gang violence prevention and conflict resolution program; Broader Horizons, a career exploration program, and Operation Secure, a safety and health program for younger children.

Initially, these programs will be done in conjunction with the schools, later at the club itself.

He will recruit volunteers for a management board which will develop financial plans for the future club and a youth council which will develop club programs.

Mr. Johnson also served in the Civil Air Patrol and currently is continuing his education at Palm Beach Community College. He lives in Belle Glade with his wife, Nancy, and daughter, Jessica, 9.

An Open House and dinner on the grounds was held at the Family Care Center on North Main Street, Belle Glade last week. Prizes were given away and participants had a chance to tour the facility. Shown above is the Care Florida group who were giving out free gifts and handling the drawings. From left are, Medicare Marketing Representatives Joe Miranda, Dominick Donato and Jean Campbell.

Recycle old telephone books

The Solid Waste Authority of Palm Beach County (SWA) is making recycling directories easier and more convenient than ever before. Now, there's no need to keep that old telephone directory "on hold" for the next recycling effort.

"Due to stable markets and recovery improvements, the SWA is able to accept telephone directories anytime a resident would like to recycle them," said Jim Greer, residential recycling coordinator. There is no special preparation. Simply place the old directory, including the yellow pages, in the recycling bin or along with newspapers, he said.

The Solid Waste Authority of Palm Beach County is the public agency providing the county with a comprehensive and cost-effective system for solid waste disposal. This system currently includes a waste-to-energy plant, five regional transfer stations, landfill operations, a compost facility, hazardous waste collection programs, and a materials recycling facility. SWA also contracts for garbage and recycling collection for the unincorporated areas of the county.

A problem in our parks

I'm calling in reference to our city and county parks, namely Pioneer Park and Airport Park.

I urge the appropriate authorities to look into the safety of these parks before someone's life or health is jeopardized.

Over the weekends, both parks have become centers for parties and alcohol consumption.

In one park, Pioneer, the sale of food and alcohol seems to go on unnoticed by the authorities. At Airport Park, the consumption of alcohol is also prevalent, but the biggest threat to safety is the way that some youth drive through the park at high speeds, crossing over the grass area where our children play. This endangers the lives of our children near and around the swings.

On one Sunday afternoon I observed six white youth drive over a playground at high speed. When I pointed at them disapprovingly, one of them shouted that I didn't own the park.

The sad part of it was that there wasn't a policeman in sight. I spent three and a half hours in that park on that day and did not see a single police patrol car drive through there.

I however did see a great deal of drinking and high speed driving and wonder about the open container law which is being broken throughout our fair city.

The Belle Glade Police Department and both the city and county recreation department need to get on the stick. I may not own the park by myself but this taxpaying citizen wants it to be safe for our children to play in the parks.

Thank you."

Belle Glade Director of Public Safety and Chief of Police Michael Miller responds: "I would like to thank this caller for their concern. I will immediately direct both patrol and investigative resources to address the problem as identified. I encourage any concerned citizen to make the City of Belle Glade Police Department aware of their concerns."

Thank you to those who give of their time

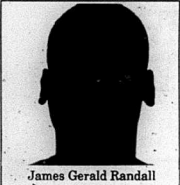

"I just wanted to take a moment to thank those in our community who give of their time and energy to help our youth.

To the coaches at the schools, to other men and women in our towns who give up their time to organize little league baseball and other sports...thank you.

Sometimes it's easier to give money than it is your time. While we appreciate those who give, we especially appreciate those who take the time to shape our youth and teach them fair play, teamwork, and honesty. These things will be with them forever.

Thank you."

Letter to the editor

Writer feels story on homeless man was tasteless

To the Editor of The Sun:

The weeks have passed since the Feb. 17 issue of The Sun proclaimed the death of Charles Ruff yet my distaste for your lurid account of his passing has yet to subside. Therefore, I am writing to let you know that while indeed Charlie had no family left for you to personally offend he still has many friends and acquaintances in the community who do not view his personal tragedy and passing with your same lack of respect and callousness.

I, for one, am appalled at your blatant lack of sensitivity. You showed more compassion for Charles' dog than for the man himself. Your shameless account of Charles' death was nothing short of sensationalism and has no place in our hometown newspaper. And to proclaim "Vagrant" in bold type and give front page coverage was totally inappropriate and goes far beyond mere bad taste. Why, your paper very seldom affords front page coverage to even the most well-known and beloved members of our community, such as Hub Spooner, yet you choose instead to place the news of Charles' death in just such a prominent place. Your index for this same issue lists obituaries on Page 9, yet I found nothing there regarding Charlie, so I can only assume your front page "news coverage" is the only "obituary" for Charlie anyone will ever see. What a shame.

Charles Ruff was a highly educated man - apparently unlike yourself - who at one time was a well regarded member of this community. His contribution to the education of our area youth was invaluable. He was a harmless and gentle soul who never hurt anyone during all his tormented years on this earth. He deserves the dignity due any man at his passing. You have robbed him of this.

To hold a man up for public ridicule after his death is a despicable act. The fact that you are the Editor makes it all the more reprehensible. It gives one just cause to question your journalistic integrity and ethics as well as your qualifications to hold such a position of responsibility.

The final irony to this sad episode was in your choosing to publish only a few column inches below the touching story, complete with photo, of the local area homeless receiving food and assistance - another "story" with your byline. With such hypocritical and incongruous reporting by the same writer how is one to know where your paper truly stands on the plight of the homeless and less fortunate among us?

To publicly humiliate this man even in death, is to compound the tragedy that was his life. He was, after all, still one of God's children and there are those among us who truly mourn his passing.

Shame on you Brenda Bunting and shame on The Sun.

God bless you Charles Ruff and may you rest in Peace.

Sincerely,

Randy S. Martin
Belle Glade

Editor's response: It was never our intention to besmirch the memory of Mr. Ruff. When a man is found dead on the street, that is news. When that man was seen almost every day by hundreds of local residents who knew who he was, we felt that was front page news.

We think people would always wonder "What ever happened to that man who used to walk the street with his dog?" This was another reason we felt our readers would like to know.

You mention that we do not give front page prominence to well-known people who pass away and specifically name Mr. Spooner. Mr. Spooner's death was on the front page of The Sun the next week, Feb. 24, with a photo.

It's National Agriculture Week

Guest commentary

By Linda Parker

President of Everglades WIFE (Women Involved in Farm Economics). WIFE is a grass-roots organization working to promote American agriculture.

mental benefits of these new uses for agriculture products are astounding and provide promise for developing rural communities. Now, many crops can be produced and processed all in the same community and that means jobs.

Agriculture producers are "growing better every day." In our area we produce 23 percent of all sugar produced in the United States. We are the winter vegetable capital of the world. Hendry County is also number one in citrus tree population and number three in citrus production.

Those involved in agriculture also recognize the constant need for improvement. Producers and agricultural groups are aware of the necessity to address issues like food safety, pesticide development, testing and EPA approval takes eight to ten years and costs manufacturers $35 million to $50 million per product. Each product is subjected to more than 120 separate tests. On average, only one in 20,000 chemicals make it from the research lab to a finished pesticide on the market. The agriculture industry puts into place safeguards like quality assurance programs, improved inspection processes and voluntary safe-handling labels.

In doing so, American agriculture shows its willingness to bear the responsibility for any problems that exist and looks for "ways to change and improve the system so that they no longer pose a threat. After all, the many faces who put food on your table are putting the same food on their own.

As the original stewards of the land, farmers will continue to provide the safest and highest quality food supply, while protecting the environment. This is the legacy they pass on to our children, the next generation. Let's salute American agriculture on the farmer during National Agriculture Week.

For more information about WIFE, phone 813-983-5307.

Belle Glade Elementary selects Students of the Month

First grade
First grade students ended their unit on Kings, Queens and Dragons by performing two stories: The Princess and the Pea and King Bigdoods in the Bathbub.

The media center was turned into Medieval Times when first grade students from Mrs. Jones' and Mrs. Frosts' classes performed the story The Princess and the Pea.

Students in Mrs. Cheatham's and Mrs. Campbell's class performed another royal story: King Bigdoods in the Bathbub.

All of the performers did a wonderful job with impromptu speaking.

Students of the Month
During the month of February, 17 students were selected by their teachers for displaying exemplary qualities in either academic or behavior. Others were recognized for their perfect attendance. Students selected as Students of the Month were:

Diana Vitale, fourth grade; Myriam St. Fort, fifth grade; Calvin Edmondson, first grade; Yassimina Flores, fourth grade; Ulysses Lugo, first

Congratulations to all and keep up the good work!

• Superintendent and board members visit Belle

Glade Elementary
By Cheryl Delva
The Palm Beach County Superintendent Dr. C. Monica Uhlhorn and board members visited Belle Glade Elementary on Wednesday, Feb. 16, 1994. Teachers, parents and a fifth grade student presented a short program urging them for a new school.

As a student at Belle Glade Elementary, I feel the need for a new school. Our present school has rats, roaches, broken ceiling and smelly bathrooms. Our classrooms are small and we do not have enough supplies or proper equipment.

Teachers at Belle Glade Elementary are also in need of a better lounge since part of their present lounge, was turned into a classroom.

I am sure that if we get a new school, students at Belle Glade Elementary will promise to take care of it and never do anything to destroy it.

I am leaving Belle Glade Elementary at the end of this school year but I hope that a new school for Belle Glade Elementary is built so my brother and sister can have a better education.

Read and See the World
"Belle Glade Elementary hosted a book fair in the media center during the week of March 7-10. The purpose of the fair was to give students the opportunity to purchase books at a reasonable price. Posters, book marks, pencils, erasers, crayons and coloring books were also available for the students to buy.

The money raised will be used to buy additional resources for our school's media center.

Students involved in reading program

Today the students at Glade View Elementary began the program Reading Across Palm Beach County. During the next six weeks students will be encouraged to do voluntary reading at home and at school. This is the first year for this program, a cooperative effort of the Palm Beach County School Board and the Sun-Sentinel.

Students from kindergarten through fifth grade may participate. Each one has received a special 16-page newspaper that lists hundreds of good books to read. Students reading at least five books receive a Participation Award; 11 books earns the student a Silver Award; 21 books earns the student a Gold Award; and, 36 books earns the student a place on the Superintendent's Honor Roll.

The public library in Belle Glade will have a special display of books to promote this program. Glade View students who visit the public library during this time will receive special recognition from the school.

The more children read the better their grades become. Parents can become involved by encouraging their children to participate in the Reading Across Palm Beach County program.

Tuesday, March 1, was a life changing day for many fifth grade students at Glade View Elementary. Students in Ms. Stigall's, Ms. Yuh's and Mr. Dean's classes spent the day at Palm Beach Atlantic College touring the campus and visiting classes.

The goal of this trip was to encourage students to stay in school and complete their education. By allowing these fifth graders to experience this at an impressionable age the goal was accomplished.

The trip, hosted by Kappa Delta Epsilon, gave these students a chance to experience first hand, the day in the life of a college student. Participants toured the computer lab, science lab, dormitory rooms, student center, various classrooms and ate in the college cafeteria. The students were impressed with what they saw and and left wanting to return again.

The deadline for registering for softball is this Friday, March 18. The deadline for baseball registration is Tuesday, March 22. Competition is getting hot and heavy with this year's Kiss the Pig Contest. Sisters Kelli McKee and Karen Osenigo are not so willing participants in the elementary division. The teacher who has the most money raised by the day of Spring Fling will have to kiss the pig. Word is someone put $50 up for Ms. McKee to plant a smooch on the porker. English teacher Debbie Lewis, Spanish teacher Victor Slesinger and P.E. Instructor Bonnie Lou Christmas are the leading candidates in the high school.

All the seniors performed well and those who were servers at Friday night's dinner theatre deserve a hand for their good work.

We want to remind parents and students the Spring Fling will be held March 26, a week from Saturday. Events will begin early in the morning with the volleyball and tennis tournament finals. Yearbook pictures go on sale at 10 a.m. in Room 4 and the game booths and concessions

CRUSADER

After a busy week of baseball and softball games, the Crusader Athletic Council held their annual barbecue at the marina Saturday. Once again it was a huge success! We would like to thank everyone who came out to eat or bid in the auction.

Friday was Mrs. Hilyer's last day as the school secretary. Debbie was with us for 13 years. We will miss her and wish her well on her new job.

Last Saturday Marshette Bowens and Mireya dela Cerda were at the Palm Beach Pink Chip All-Star Recruiting Camp in Royal Palm Beach. There were scouts from colleges east and south of the Mason-Dixon Line. They represented themselves, as well as the school, very well, playing with and against girls from Martin County, SantaLucas, Wellington High, Spanish River and other schools in the area.

And, a big congratulations to Marshette and Mireya for making the Honorable Mention list for Palm Beach County Basketball Team.

This week has our baseball team playing Lake Worth Christian on Monday and they'll be traveling to Jupiter Christian tomorrow. The girls softball team will travel to Sheridan Hills today and to Glades Day School tomorrow for their week of play. Come on out and support both teams!

Until next week catch the spirit!

Memories flood the minds of those returning: the boys going to war before graduation, Big Band music, the jitterbug and Lindy dances, rationing of gas-food-shoes, no new cars, trips to Lake Worth on the back of farm trucks, "diking," love letters from far places, Mr. Lampi, the loud and Fighting Blue Devils, and most of all - Nostalgia.

Whiplash injuries can result from a sudden backward and forward whipping movement of the neck, caused by an auto collision, a fall, a powerful slap on the back, or even a violent sneeze. The ligaments and muscles controlling the spinal segments are stretched or sprained, allowing the vertebrae to slip into abnormal positions. Nerves are then "pinched" or irritated, giving rise to headaches, nausea, dizziness and other pain.
